Potomac State College
of
West Virginia University
Keyser, West Virginia
1972-73

Once Upon A Time
At PSC

Once upon a time at a small school in West Virginia. Potomac State in the fall of 1972.

A time.

A beginning. A new year for us, the students.

Saying goodbyes to parents and experiencing a new kind of freedom. Being on our own.

A new year. Books. Studying, meeting new people, Striving to find out what college is all about.

A confusing time.

Registration. Waiting in what seemed to be endless lines. Finding the classes that you want are closed.

Being confronted by sophomores. Upper-classmen telling you that you have to dish out money for dorm dues or car stickers.

Buying books. Three or four for some classes. Thicker than those you had in high school.

A time.

The first open house.

Going to classes, having to study. Labs.

Professors trying to pound the scientific method into you.

Taking jobs on the work-study program.

Training.

A time.
 Of exploring the different aspects of college life.
 Football games and extra curricular activities. Studying with a friend.
 Spending the afternoon in jam sessions in the Student Union. Discussions with fellow students lasting only the afternoon or until early morning hours.

Study.

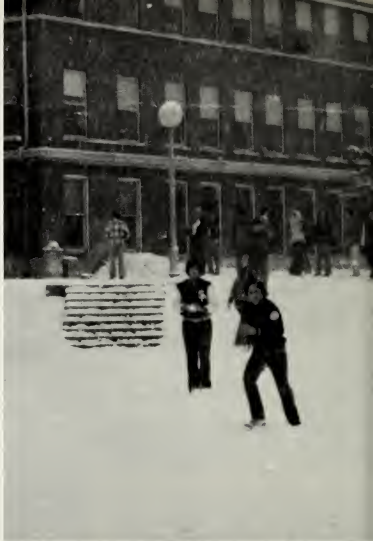

Studying all day and night only to find that there is still more to do. Things left undone.

Using the library. Some for research. Others as an escape from the noisy dorms. Or even to catch the latest news or magazine.

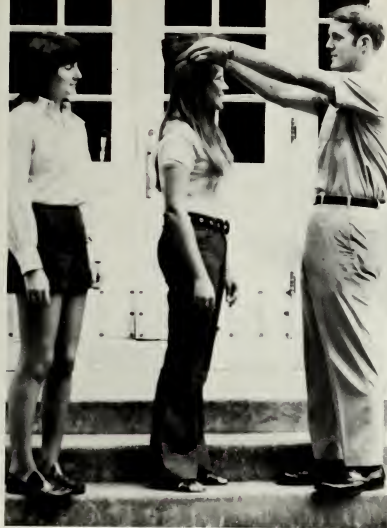

Snow.
The first of the year.
A contagious feeling. Being tackled by students you have not even met before.
Battles between the dorms.
Stepping outside only to find yourself being buried alive.
Some broken windows. A few bumps and bruises.
A lot of fun.

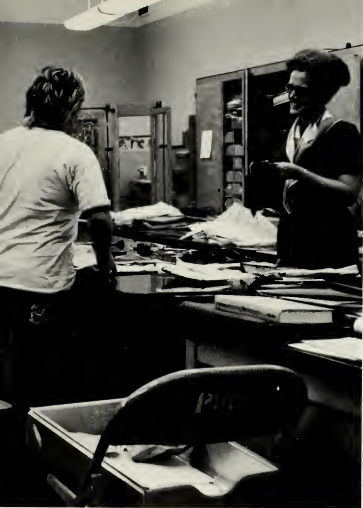

A time.

Staring at the same buildings day after day.
Going to classes. Making regular stops in the Union. Monotony.

Monotony occasionally broken by special events. Homecoming. Women entering fields pursued previously only by men.

A time.
Of learning.
Classes. Preparing students for every field of work.
Computer programming, language labs, sewing,
ROTC.
Learning to do, to feel, to think.

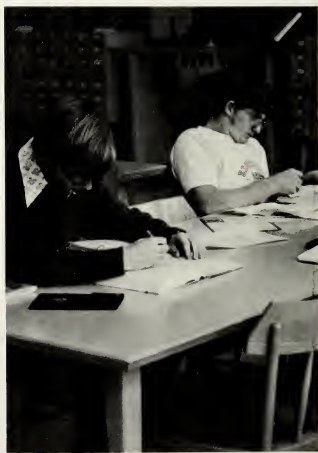

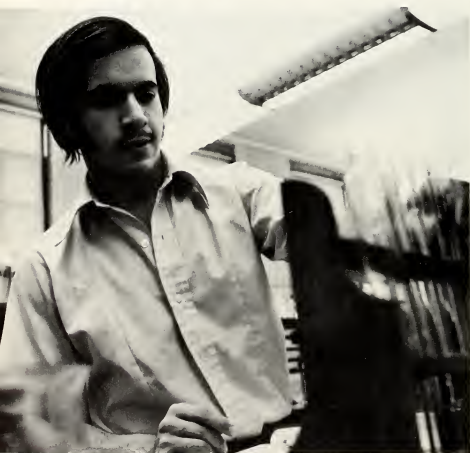

A time.
 Of struggling. Trying to make it through all of our classes. Long afternoons spent in labs. Getting help from others.
 Trying to pay attention in class, but being distracted by a camera.

A time of being.
Being a student. Being a part of the life
at Potomac State.
We made the school year what it was.

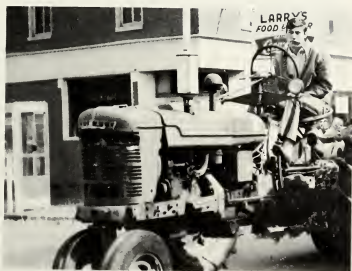

A time.

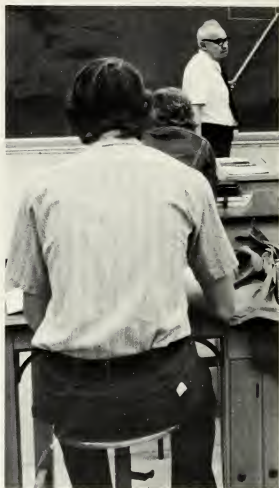

A school year. Sometimes it seemed like the time was lasting forever. And sometimes the weeks flew by.

Making dresses, playing sports, eating, and decorating for special events.

Living. Being a part of the present.

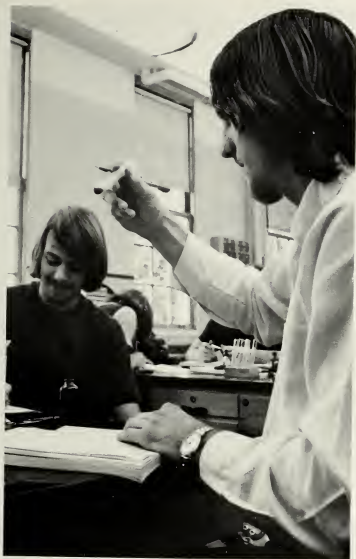

Pressure.
Trying to get caught up in all of our classes.
Studying, doing term papers and
projects.

Finals.
Pulling all-nighters every night of the week. Cramming. Trying to remember every fact that has been mentioned during the whole semester.

A time.
A year. A new experience in our lives.
Friends, activities, classes, cramming,
labs, parties.
Some were the best.
Some were the worst.

A time.
 The 1973 school year. Over.
 Leaving friends. Only the memories
 remain.
 Emptiness.
 A time and place important only to
 those of us who were there.
 A time in the lives of students at PSC.

Faculty

Faculty Guides Students Through Year

Dr. Harold C. Doster
Dean of the college

A time.
Of teaching, helping, working.
Trying to enlarge the minds
of students.
Planning lessons, making tests,
holding study sessions, or
just being there for someone to talk to.

1973 CATAMOUNT

A time.
Of leaving home and being thrown into a different world. Alone.
Registration. Waiting in lines. Closed classes, wrong professors, 8 AM classes. Waiting only to wait some more.
The best of time.
The worst of time.
Phantom parties, dances, weekends.
Finals, term papers, 3-hour labs.
A time of adjustment to dorm life.
Drug raids, panty raids, 2 AM fire drills.
Pulling all-nighters.
Making friends to be always remembered.
Joking at the dinner table. Wasting time in the Union. A brand new pub.
Open house.
Wondering how the year has gone so fast.
Parting with friends you will never see again.
Once upon a time at PSC.
Ended. School year 1973.
